YALE IS FAVORITE IN MEET

NEW RECORDS PROBABLE.
Captain Barron of Harvard in the 225, Bingham, another Crimson star. In the 440, Brown of Yale in the half, and Johnson of Yale in the both hurdle events are liable to set up new flags, especially if the competition is hot, as in all probability it will be. Yale has the greatest number of entries, ninety-three in the track and four in the field, while the total of 153, as against Harvard's 100 entries, ninety-three in the track and twenty-five in field. Both teams, however, have entered several men in the events in which there is little chance of a new record being made.

beginning in 1961 in repairing the damaged pier and the wharf. The wharf was already occupied by the T. Wharf Supply and was used for military conditions which were very bad for years. One storehouse situated at the new pier, and has been destroyed by fire. The wharf is being built on the upper and lower pier building at the upper end, as the wharf has been fitted up, as a storehouse for the new pier.

The members of the new project say that it will succeed because of the lower cost of doing business at the wharf, because masters of fishing vessels find the new dock too exposed to any kind of a big wind, and the convenient situation of the old wharf.

The dealers who left the old wharf in 1912 are now in the new market, believing that there would be no other market and that all the dealers would be on the same business footing, are greatly disturbed over the new turn of affairs. They realize that the new crowd will be under very much less overhead expense and will be in a fair way to make it lively for them.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The astounding and dramatic testimony of Mrs. Lillian Rosenberg, widow of "Lefty Louis," who led the four executed gunmen to the murder of Rosenthal, has not New York alone. No one else in the world has heard such a confession as the one since the first confession of Jack Rose and the indictment of Becker.

None of our attorneys are staggered. Mrs. Rosenberg not only admitted that her husband and the other three men were executed, but she was guilty, but that Jack Rose came to them with Becker's orders that they do the deed.

Jack Rose's story is corroborated by the force of her own testimony is many times increased by her simple answer when she was asked if her present testimony did

DEMAND REPRISAL FOR MURDER OF PARKS

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The War Department believes that Private Sam Parks was executed just outside the Vera Cruz lines in Mexico. This murder, the proofs show, was a barbarous and uncivilized act. Upon the shoulders of General Max, the executor of Vera Cruz—coincidentally General Victoriano Huerta—is laid full responsibility for his heinous act. The army clamors for the capture of Max, his summary trial—criminal rather than military—and his execution as reprisal.

In 1913 the American forces of occupation advanced with a slogan, "Remember the Maine." Within a few days, perhaps hours, the army will advance into Mexico to a new battle cry: "Remember Parks."

An atrocious murder of a prisoner of war—which Parks may have been—is much worse than an insult to the American flag.

The AMERICAN is informed that the War Department has supplied the Government physical evidence of the guilt of General Max. The two blooded horses which Private Parks had been recovered, and it is alleged, were found in the private corral of General Max.

When the strict censorship at Vera Cruz is relaxed other details from correspondents with General Funston are expected to throw light upon the murder of Parks, and how General Funston got evidence of the guilt of General Max.

Huerta knows how serious the matter is for he has been ordered to command back of Vera Cruz. Secretary of War Garrison declared today:

THE CASE OF PRIVATE PARKS HAS PASSED THE INVESTIGATION STAGE. WE ARE NOW ASKING: IS HE EITHER A PRISONER OR HAS BEEN KILLED? THE STRONG PROBABILITY IS THAT HE IS A PRISONER.

General Aguilar then sent a courier to Oaxaca demanding the immediate release of Parks and asking that if the Federalists resist he would take the city with "blood and fire." Oaxaca called a conference of his officers, and it was decided to evacuate the city, leaving no hope of securing reinforcements. When the Federalists crossed the river and were in dispersal.

General Villa has crossed the river and is in dispersal. He is believed that the Federal forces in Saltillo have been greatly strengthened by conscripts, but the fighting ability of these "soldiers" is doubted.

In addition to the conscripts there are a number of citizen volunteers in the Federal ranks, as General Huerta ordered the Federal officers in Saltillo to spread the word that the Constitutional army is in reality an army of 20,000 American soldiers who are fighting with the Constitutionalists. It is said that Huerta caused a report to be published in Saltillo that Villa had been captured by a column in the United States Army.

CHARGE VIOLATED AT STANT.

Mrs. Gregorio's arrest was in line with police determination to nip any violence at the start. Four hundred strikers were massed on Factory Field on Water street, opposite the entrance to the cotton factory of Heywood Brothers & Washburn Company, waiting for legal operatives to approach. Mrs. Gregorio was one of the first to be taken to the factory, doing informal picket duty.

A few local operatives came along. The police say that Mrs. Gregorio grasped one of the "loyals" as he was turning in the factory gate. The next moment Mrs. Gregorio was arrested by Municipal police. She was taken to an automobile stationed nearby for just such emergency.

Patrolman John Finn of the Metropolitan Police, who was stationed at a road last night, was better today. He is in the Melrose hospital. Nine stitches were required to close the gash which the rock bit into his head. The fracture of the skull, Officer Finn said, is a serious one.

Only a dozen operatives entered the factory at the opening hour. The strikers did not molest them after the arrest of Mrs. Gregorio.

The departure of Joseph J. Eitor, the I. W. O. leader, yesterday for Philadelphia, developed the new strike. Eitor, who was the head of the rattle company, talked with Philadelphia yesterday. There was speculation whether Mr. Eitor was in communication with the Quaker City Police.

The strike, involving 80 workers, means all of them have lost their jobs for a 20 per cent increase in wages, while the continued striking has caused the desperate condition of the strikers.

Broken heads on police and strikers a running pitched battle in the streets with shots fired and the use of clubs. The police were pushed back by the strikers.

THE ARMY OF ATTACK is probably the best disciplined in the republic and certainly is the best equipped. It is the value to him of keeping the most modern and best equipped army in the world.

DEFENSE STUNNED.

The lawyers for the defense were stunned. They had been prepared for the testimony in the first trial, but they were wholly unprepared for the use of Becker's name. Becker, who was a very alert man, was on his feet in an instant. There was no mistaking the importance he attached to the testimony from the volensence of his objection.

He protested against the answer being allowed to stand. Mr. South to argue and continue his objections, but the justice, in decisive manner, cut the matter short by directing that all of it should stand except that part where Becker said he was not a witness.

Becker had no intimation that his former friend and press agent and buddy man would go back on him. It was Pitt's part to telephone the newspapers whenever Becker made a raid to try to keep Becker's name before the public. He took part in nearly all the raids made by Becker.

Becker's statement did not mean the confession alleged to have been made by "Dago Frank" Crockett. That before the gun was shot, Becker was in the room.

WILSON TO PURSUE HANDS OFF POLICE IN NEW HAVEN CASE

WASHINGTON, May 16.—There will be no blocking of the New Haven investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission, so far as the White House is concerned. It became known today that President Wilson has decided that the testimony of Charles S. Mellen is so striking and significant that its publication at this time will be of great value in accelerating anti-trust legislation now before Congress and in bringing about a strong public opinion against high finance of the type that controlled the New Haven road.

For this reason he is not inclined to take sides in the controversy between Attorney-General McKendall and Solicitor Polk of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Secretary Tumulty emphasized the fact that the President has not interfered in any way.

BAKER CALLED IN PROBE OF NEW HAVEN SLUSH FUND OF WILSON FIX FRANCHISE

WASHINGTON, May 16.—George F. Baker—director at the time the New Haven Railroad was in the zenith of its career of high finance, more operations than any man in the United States—is expected to go on the stand at the Interstate Commerce Commission's probe of the railroad on Tuesday before former President Mellen is called to give his promised story, "testing none, whether he be dead or alive."

Spokane has been issued for the Blue board of directors which served when Mellen was president. His testimony, with that of Mr. Baker, is expected to furnish new insights in the series of revelations already assured.

Others called are Lewis Cass Brown, William Rockefeller and George McCullough Miller. The latter two have presented affidavits from physicians that they are not physically able to appear. A witness when the officials had searched two weeks was found to be dead. He was Edward Miller.

George H. Glaham, a Pennsylvania politician, and L. W. Miller, president of the Westchester road, have conferred with Prosecutor Polk. The latter will make a comparison of the list of stockholders in the Westchester Company and the roster of New York Aldermen serving at the time of the Westchester-New Haven scandal.

GET WHAT IT ASKED.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Official records here show the New Haven road what it asked from the board of estimate and apportionment when the Westchester campaign was on, including many substantial items.

The borough presidents then were John F. Ahern, Manhattan; Louis F. Ahern, the Bronx; Lawrence Green, Queens; George Cronwell, Richmond. Ahern was removed from office by Governor Hughes, August 1, 1909, and Green was removed September 27, 1911, by Governor Miller. "Cable to Mr. McClellan," was the device offered today by John F. Ahern, who controlled the vote of the Controller and the President of the Board of Aldermen. He had sixteen votes. The nine McClellan votes were not before the borough presidents were reached.

Who ASK McCLELLAN? Ahern seemed very much annoyed by Mr. Mellen's testimony. "I told what I asked from the board of estimate and apportionment when the Westchester campaign was on, including many substantial items," he said. "I never heard of money being used to influence any one."

City News in a Nutshell

Fire starting in the clothing of an employee of an express company at the North Station caused a needless alarm early today.

With a wet towel wrapped about his head, Edward Mulvey, of No. 625 Wake Hill street, Mattapan, entered a burning barn, and rescued the owner's dog.

Charles Ritchie, sixteen years old, of 124 West 12th street, was arrested on the charge of stealing a bicycle from the shoe factory of Miller & Weller.

Branch No. 24, Letter Carriers, has decided to hold memorial services in June for dead members of the organization.

"SOLDIERS" IN NEW KILLING COAL EMPLOYEES

DENVER, May 14.—The most startling development since the Legislature was convened in special session was the placing on the State calendar today of a complete roster of Troop A and Company B of the Colorado National Guard, the members of which are charged with killing two women and eleven children at the Ludlow tent colony.

The roster shows that of the 130 men composing Troop A 122 of them were on the payroll of the coal corporations and had been for years, and that of the thirty-eight men in Company B four were coal company employees. According to the figures 164 men in uniform fired into the tent colonies at Ludlow. Of this number it was alleged 122 were employees of coal corporations, but wore the uniform of the State militia and under orders of Major Patrick J. Hamrick, who was charged with the militia on trial before a military commission, and only forty-two were legitimate militia men.

The Legislature has adopted a joint resolution to adjourn finally at noon today, but the bill was expressed this morning that the anti-administration faction could, through their pettie resistance, following the publication of the report of Adjutant-General Chan, force a reconsideration of the resolution and compel the administration forces to order a complete investigation of the coal strike before adjournment sine die was taken.

The court-martial was resumed at Golden today. It was expected that today's developments would be more sensational than yesterday, when Sergeant Patrick M. Collins frankly admitted that the militia on the day preceding the Ludlow battle carefully planned the attack on tent colonies.

"For Rent" or "Rented" Which?

A Real Estate Man's Problem —And the Successful Answer

The best known and most successful Real Estate Concerns and Renting Agencies in Boston are those which avail themselves of modern means and methods of projecting themselves into prominence.

And an accepted, tried and proved force that each can command is advertising in a medium of the Boston American's conceded strength and standing.

The question that must be answered by those who assume the responsibility of finding tenants for apartments and houses is: What kind of a sign makes the best impression on property owners—"For Rent"—or—"Rented"?

Liberal use of the American's "Want Ad" pages will bring the "For Rent" signs down and put "Rented" signs in their places. This result is the natural sequence of intelligent publicity applied to all renting problems.

More than 400,000 substantial people read the American daily. They are animated by the same emotions that stir the average man and woman.

Thousands of them will move into other houses and apartments this Spring. The desire to buy their own homes is being born in the minds of hundreds more. Mental attitudes regarding domestic environments are changing constantly.

Enterprising Real Estate men who realize this and display enterprise that is measured by aggressive advertising will keep themselves in the foreground of Boston's development and progress.

And this is the big cashing-in season—an important period for the proper exploitation of apartments to rent, houses to rent and real estate for sale.

Restlessness due to a Winter's discontent must be appeased by new surroundings, and everybody wants to be settled and satisfied by the first of June.

A profitable clientele awaits your cultivation among the American's big family of home seekers this Spring. There are only a few weeks remaining in which to make an aggressive advertising campaign and score an unusual business triumph.

Show your preference now—"For Rent"—or—"Rented"—Which?
